TAKE CHARGE OF LIGHTHOUSE

Foreign Minister Ruiz Telegraphs Protest to South American Mediators and Requests That They Make Representations to the United States Government in Connection With the Armistice.

Mexico City, May 11.—Foreign Minister Ruiz has telegraphed the South American mediators in Washington that several United States torpedo boats with a transport and tender have appeared off the island of Lobos, on the east coast of Mexico, between Vera Cruz and Tampico, landed a party on the island and arrested the lighthouse tenders, who were released after they had turned over the instruments and apparatus for operating the lighthouse.

The mediators were asked to make representations to the United States government in connection with the armistice.

The island of Lobos lies eight miles off the east coast and 180 miles north of Vera Cruz and sixty-five miles south of Tampico. Two islands are very near together, Lobos and Blanquillo.

Lobos island is near the main route of steamers plying between Vera Cruz and Tampico and has a powerful light to guide shipping, one of the most important along the east coast. The island is low and sandy with nothing on it but the lighthouse equipment, though its location might make it of considerable strategic importance.

A line of shoals runs south of the island, making navigation dangerous. The town of Tuxpan, in the center of a rich region, lies twenty-five miles southwest on the coast.

IS PRECAUTIONARY MOVE

Apparent Motive for Seizing Mexican Lighthouse.

Washington, May 11.—President Wilson received at the White House Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil, the ranking member of the South American mediators who are trying to compose the Mexican troubles.

The receipt of a dispatch from Mexico City stating that Foreign Minister Ruiz had protested to the mediators that several United States torpedo boats with a transport and tender had landed a party on Lobos island, eight miles off the coast, and taken the lighthouse was believed to have been the purpose of the ambassador's visit to the White House.

Admiral Howard cabled to the navy department that Huerta had ordered the lighthouses on the Pacific coast extinguished, so as to impede navigation by American ships.

The same order by Huerta is reported to have been made as to lighthouses on the Atlantic side, so that the reported seizure of the lighthouse on Lobos island might be held to be a precaution to keep the lights burning to protect all shipping.

As such a precautionary measure the taking of the lighthouse, it is contended, would be without significance as an occupation or territorial acquisition of the island and therefore would not justify any charge of violation of armistice.

LID TO GO ON AT VERA CRUZ

General Funston Orders End of Gambling.

Vera Cruz, May 11.—Gambling in Vera Cruz is to cease. Brigadier General Funston issued an order for all houses running games of chance to close and stating that any person found guilty of maintaining any game will be subject to a fine of $1,000 and one year's imprisonment at hard labor. The order was issued at the behest of a committee of local business men who had protested to General Funston against the city being run wide open.

KILLS HIMSELF WITH RIFLE

Charles W. Post Commits Suicide at Santa Barbara, Cal.

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 11.—Charles W. Post, millionaire food manufacturer, who killed himself with a rifle, had given no intimation either in his business or personal dealings that he intended to end his life. His physician told the coroner's jury at the inquest that Mr. Post committed suicide while temporarily insane, but the jury returned a noncommittal verdict, holding simply that he died from the effects of a gunshot wound.

FOUR DIE IN NEWARK FIRE

Three Maids and Clergyman Burned to Death.

Newark, N. J., May 11.—Four persons were burned to death in a fire which swept through a large brick and stone apartment house on Broad street. Three of the victims were maids, the fourth being Dr. A. H. Young, a retired Presbyterian clergyman, who was taken out of the building, but who died in the hospital.

FAMOUS SOPRANO
DIES AT BATAVIAMme. Lillian Nordica a Victim of Pneumonia.

BECAME ILL DEC. 28 LAST

Vessel Upon Which Mme. Nordica Was Traveling Ran Aground and the Shock of the Accident Brought on Nervous Prostration, From Which She Only Showed Slight Improvement.

Batavia, Java, May 11.—Madame Lillian Nordica, the soprano, died here. She had been ill since the steamer Tasman, on which she was a passenger, went ashore on Bramble bay in the Gulf of Paqua, Dec. 28 last. Nervous prostration was followed by pneumonia.

The Tasman was floated in three days and put into Thursday Island. There Madame Nordica was placed under the care of a physician, who remained in constant attendance upon her until April 1, when she sailed for Batavia. It was against the advice of her physicians that she made the trip.

Arriving here the singer seemed very ill, but recovered somewhat after a stay of three weeks.

The improvement, however, was only temporary, and when a relapse occurred the physicians gave up all hopes of her recovery.

It was the intention of Madame Nordica when she came here to sail for Genoa, where she was to meet her husband, George W. Young, a New York banker. She already had taken passage for the voyage when the relapse occurred.

The body probably will be brought to the United States at once and buried at the old home in Maine.

Lillian Nordica was an American singer of worldwide fame. Her admirers ranged from the men of the Bowery section of New York, where she had sung at mission meetings, to the most critical boxholders of grand opera houses in all of the world's great musical centers.

Voice Delighted Thousands.

The purity of her voice, employed in many tongues, had delighted hundreds of thousands since the day, forty years ago, she first appeared in public as soprano soloist at Grace church in Boston.

Nordica and Eames—although the latter was born of American parents in far off China—were of old New England stock, both claimed by the state of Maine, and they made up a notable American contribution to the operatic world.

A farmhouse built by the prima donna's great-grandfather on a hill just outside the village of Farmington, Me., was Nordica's birthplace, in 1859. Her true name was Lillian Norton. She changed it to the Italian, Nordica, twenty years later when she began to study in Italy for an operatic career.

Her matrimonial ventures numbered three. She married first in 1882 to Frederick A. Gower, a wealthy electrician and native of her state of Maine, whom she met in Paris. Shortly after she had begun separation proceedings in 1884 Gower disappeared. He attempted a balloon trip across the English channel. Although the balloon was found later nothing was ever heard or seen of him.

In 1896 Mme. Nordica married Zoltan Doeme, a Hungarian army officer and singer, from whom she secured a divorce in 1905.

Her third marriage was in London in 1909 to George W. Young, a wealthy New York banker. It was announced at that time that Nordica would retire from the stage, but after a honeymoon spent in part at the old Norton farmstead in Maine, she decided upon a farewell tour of the world. It was while making one leg of this trip on the Dutch steamer Tasman that the vessel ran ashore on Thursday island in the Antipodes.

THREE CHICAGO MURDERS

One Killed by Woman, Another Shot and Third Nearly Beheaded.

Chicago, May 11.—One man was shot and killed by a woman after he had broken down the door into her apartment, another was shot and fatally wounded in a quarrel over a card game and a third was found with his head nearly severed from his body in this city.

The first victim was Matthew Hetzer. He was killed by Mrs. Mary Baer. The police declare the Black Hand was responsible for the shooting of Pasquale Marone by Thomas Colackicko over a card game. The man found with his throat cut in a lonely spot has not been identified.

FOUGHT IN MEXICAN WAR

William Martin Dies in Minneapolis at Age of Ninety-one.

Minneapolis, May 11.—William Martin, ninety-one years old, the only survivor of the Mexican war living in Minneapolis, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sandy Hamilton. Although the trials and privations of Mexican campaign had impaired his health he tried to enlist for service in the Civil war, but was rejected for disability, despite the fact that William Martin lived fifty-three years longer, active in body and mind until his death.

Having taken an active part in the historic campaign in 1846 under General Winfield Scott, having been in every engagement from Vera Cruz to the fall of the capital, he was intensely interested in the recent capture of Vera Cruz by the Americans. He followed every incident with enthusiasm and recalled the scenes in the same city nearly seventy years ago when as a private in the Second Indiana Infantry he landed with General Scott at Vera Cruz.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY
IN ST. PAUL CAFEGreek Wounds His Wife and Kills Himself.

St. Paul, May 11.—Carrying out a threat he had repeated many times in the last three months George Karlos, twenty-five years old, a Greek, probably mortally wounded his wife, Marie, nineteen years old, and killed himself in the Dartmouth cafe.

They quarreled over the possession of an umbrella Mrs. Karlos was carrying. Then the woman turned suddenly to her husband.

"Give me that gun," she shouted. Karlos was taking a pistol from his pocket. The two moved toward the cigar counter, behind which stood B. F. Wooley, the proprietor.

When the husband got within a few feet of the retreating woman he fired the first shot. The bullet struck her in the back. Karlos shot again as his wife fell, the bullet striking her in the head.

The would-be murderer then put the muzzle of the pistol in his mouth and pulled the trigger. He staggered and fired a second bullet into his head as he fell.

FORBIDS STRIKEBREAKERS

President Wilson Sends Order to Colonel Lockett.

Trinidad, Colo., May 11.—President Wilson, through the war department, instructed Colonel James Lockett, commanding federal troops in Southern Colorado, to permit no importation of strikebreakers and further announced that a time limit will be set at once within which delivery of arms must be completed.

Colonel Lockett announced that the war department had determined to permit the rehabilitation of the strikers' tent colony at Ludlow.

FEDERALS KILL AMERICAN

James S. Beard Shot by Order of General Arguedo.

El Paso, Tex., May 11.—Word has filtered through to the border of the finding of the body of James S. Beard, a wealthy American, near Pecos, a victim of General Benjamin Arguedo, once a follower of Pasqual Orozco, Jr., and later a member of the garrison of Torreón.

Beard is said to have been killed at the time of the retreat of the federals from Torreón.

SAILORS' PROMINENT PART.

"Jack Ashore" Proves That He Is a Real Fighting Man—Garrison Wisely Reserves Right to Change His Mind at Any Time on Any Subject—Gardner Philosophizes.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 11.—[Special.]—Whether it be soldiers, sailors or marines, it is certain that the men who wear the uniform of the United States are sure to give a good account of themselves. These men are always led by trained officers, graduates of West Point or Annapolis or men who have sought commissions from civil life and have the right sort of military spirit to lead properly the men they command.

And the enlisted men in the three different branches of the service are of the kind that are willing to go where they are told or follow where they are led. Whatever may be the outcome of the present situation in Mexico, the country is assured that the men who wear the uniform, officers as well as the rank and file, will be a credit to the country.

Blue Jackets Ashore.

In this connection it may be mentioned that, although the marines figure largely in the dispatches at all times whenever service is required, it is a fact that the sailors—bluejackets they are called—are always prominent in the landing parties.

Down at Vera Cruz the sailors with navy officers in command seem to have been in the fracas to a great extent. There were eleven sailors and three marines killed. Three officers in command of bluejackets were wounded, but no marine officers. Of the enlisted men wounded more than two-thirds were sailors.

So it appears that "Jack ashore" is a fighting man as well as the marine. There have been few occasions where marines are landed for hostile purposes that sailors have not been landed at the same time. It is generally the sailors that go with the machine guns which are always an effective feature of a landing party.

Will Not Be a Prophet.

Secretary Garrison refuses to indulge in any prophecies or forecasts or make any predictions as to what he will do when a given set of circumstances arise. "More than that," he said one day, "I reserve the right to change my mind until I sign my name, and then if I thought it was necessary I would change it if I could get away with it."

Thus the secretary of war puts himself in a class that may be called successful. The man who draws a chalk line and walks it to the end, no matter what happens, is almost sure to come to grief. The man who does not find it necessary to change his mind, reverse his opinion, or even reverse his policy, will find himself in trouble in trying to adjust all the differences which arise in a great government like that of the United States.

Brandegee Felt Sheepish.

No one has been complaining more insistently that Senator Brandegee of Connecticut against stuffing the Congressional Record full of letters and telegrams, articles, speeches, essays, etc., etc., and yet upon a demand of his constituents some time ago he was obliged to ask for the reading of a telegram bearing upon the war in Mexico. The Connecticut senator finds that he cannot lay down a hard and fast rule in the senate that will not occasionally be broken.

The Massachusetts Philosopher.

Thus spoke Augustus P. Gardner of Massachusetts, while we were chatting together. Something called to mind the fact that when he first came to congress he reintroduced a bill presented by his predecessor providing for free hides. He told me at the time that it was a bunco game, because he knew there was no possibility of revision of the tariff in that session of congress, and that led him to philosophy.

"As a general thing," said Gardner, "when I am humbugging anybody I know it, even if I am humbugging myself, but in regard to free hides I really humbugged myself into believing my humbug. I really persuaded myself to believe that free hides was a good thing."

Congressman Gardner did not say whether he would vote for free hides if another tariff bill was presented, but he did not need to as the possibility of tariff legislation on the subject is somewhat distant.

Senator West Is Interested.

Few senators take as much interest in the proceedings of the senate as Senator West of Georgia. He is serving a short term as the successor of the late Senator Bacon and is not a candidate for re-election. After November, when Georgia elects another senator, he will retire. Meanwhile he is giving as much attention to the proceedings and procedure in the senate as any other member. He does not make long speeches, but he frequently asks questions and expresses his opinion.

Major General Reaches Texas City From Philippines.

Galveston, Tex., May 11.—Major General J. Franklin Bell assumed command of the Second division of the United States army at Texas City. He arrived at headquarters from the Philippines. Two of the Brigades of the division are encamped at Texas City and the other brigade is at Vera Cruz.

DESPERATE BATTLE
RAGES AT TAMPICOOil Wells, Tanks and Portion of City in Flames.

Juarez, May 11.—The most desperately fought battle of the present Mexican revolution is being fought at Tampico, according to reports reaching Constitutional officers here. Some of the oil wells and tanks are burning and a portion of the town is on fire.

All Americans, it is said here, have been taken aboard the United States warships, but other foreigners are scattered throughout the oil well district.

It was this section of the battlefield that the United States government suggested should be made a neutral zone. The Constitutionalists generally refused to adopt this suggestion.

By the light of the blazing oil tanks, fired by stray shots, the rebel artillery men hurled shot after shot from twenty heavy field guns into the strongly entrenched position held by General Ignacio Morelos Zaragosa, the federal commander, in the center of the town, sweeping the breastworks with a hail of shrapnel in an effort to open the way for a dash by General Pablo Gonzales' Infantry.

DECLINE ALL HOSPITALITY

Huerta's Peace Commissioners Arrive at Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, May 11.—President Huerta's three peace commissioners, and Luis Figueroa, and their party arrived here on their way to Niagara Falls, Can., where the conference between the mediators and the representatives of the parties concerned for a settlement of the difficulties between the United States and Mexico will be held.

The commissioners politely but firmly declined the offers of hospitality made by Brigadier General Funston, as well as Rear Admiral Badger's offer to give them passage on the Moro Castle, and boarded the steamship Kronprinzessin Cecilie, which will sail for the United States by way of Havana, touching at Key West.

PUT TO DEATH FOR MUTINY

Forty-five Peruvian Soldiers Had Killed Officers.

New York, May 11.—Captain W. P. Aspinall of the steamer Gregory, which arrived from Iquitos, 2,500 miles up the Amazon, brought a story of a massacre of forty-five Peruvian soldiers, all Indians, who had mutinied and killed their officers. The story is almost unbelievable, but Captain Aspinall gives it on the authority of the man who carried out the executions, Captain Fernando Casabala, who was a passenger on his ship as far as Barbados.

The forty-five mutineers when captured were shackled together and taken out on the Napo river on a lighter in tow of a gunboat. Then, the story goes, a machine gun on the gunboat was turned on the prisoners and all were killed. Their bodies were thrown into the river.

CONTINUE THEIR SESSIONS

Mediators Confident That Huerta Will Take Part.

Washington, May 11.—The South American mediators continued their sessions. They were confident, from telegrams received from Mexico City, that the Huerta delegates would sail shortly from Vera Cruz to Galveston, and proceed direct to Niagara Falls for the conference opening on May 18. Frederick H. Lehman of St. Louis, former solicitor general, mentioned as a possible American delegate in the mediation conferred with the president.

Cruiser Montana Brings Dead
From Vera Cruz.

SILENT TRIBUTE TO HEROES

Nation and New York City Pay Signal

Honor to the Seventeen Bluejackets and Marines Who Were Killed During the Fighting Incident to the Occupation of Vera Cruz.

New York, May 11.—Nation and city paid tribute in silence to the seventeen men who gave their lives in the first move made in the occupation of Vera Cruz by the armed forces of the United States.

Bearing the bodies of the dead bluejackets and marines the armored cruiser Montana, escorted by the presidential yacht Mayflower, having aboard Secretary of the Navy Daniels, reached port and, conveyed by the superdreadnought Wyoming, steamed up the harbor, dropping anchor off the Battery.

As the funeral cortege proceeded slowly the flags on the forts in New York harbor, on sailing craft and from the great buildings along the water front hung at half mast. Along the piers and walks of the plaza at the Battery thousands of people stood in silence. There was no noisy salute from vessels or forts, no demonstrations by the people ashore, but an attitude of silent mourning seemed to hang over all.

Coffins on Starboard Side.

As the Powhatan swung around the buoys between which the Wyoming and Montana steamed the first view was had of the coffins with the bodies of the marines and bluejackets. Draped with United States flags they rested on the starboard side of the boat deck. A guard of sailors paced to and fro about the bodies, while the big ship's crew hung over the deck rail.

The cortege came up the bay with the Wyoming leading the Montana next, followed by the Mayflower, flying the flag of the secretary of the navy. Behind the Mayflower was the Powhatan and the revenue cutter Manhattan.

At Forts Wadsworth and Hamilton in the Narrows the garrison could be seen along the shore and the flags flew at half mast, but as the army and navy regulations forbid the firing of salutes on Sunday not a sound could be heard but the chugging of the engines and an occasional note from the whistle of some vessel signaling another.

As the cortege drew nearer to the city many small craft came alongside to get a close view of the funeral ship.

ABOUT TWO HUNDRED DEAD

Earthquake Destroys Villages on Slope of Mount Etna.

Catania, Sicily, May 11.—Rescue parties, surgeons, Red Cross attendants, soldiers and priests worked among the ruins of the villages on the eastern slope of Mount Etna which were devastated by the earthquake. The list of known dead and injured remains about the same, 200, and about 350 injured, but it is believed that many are under the wreckage.

Surgeons performed operations in the open by torchlight. Peasants, whose relatives are missing, hoping to unearth them alive, urge the rescuing parties to hasten their work.

Washington, May 11.—Several thousand women, from practically every state in the Union, and representing millions of their sisters, paraded along Pennsylvania avenue from the White House to the Capitol and, presenting petitions to members of congress, made plain their desire to be given the right to vote.

Five hundred and thirty-one marchers carried these petitions, one for each member of the senate and house, asking the adoption of the Bristow-Mondell resolution, amending the Constitution so as to enfranchise women.

POLITICAL POINTERS
The St. Cloud Journal-Press sizes up the congressional situation as follows:
There are five candidates for congress in this district: H. J. Maxfield of Wadena, and C. A. Lindbergh of Little Falls, seeking the republican nomination; Dr. J. A. DuBois of Sauk Centre, democrat; Otto M. Thomason of Brainerd, socialist; T. J. Sharkey, Staples, Bull Moose. What few votes Thomason and Sharkey get at the primary election will be taken away from Lindbergh, who is as much of a socialist and bull mooser as he is a republican, and perhaps more so. The primary will eliminate either Maxfield or Lindbergh. The other three candidates having the field to themselves in their respective parties, will be nominated, and there will be four candidates at the election, with the chances greatly in favor of the republican nominee.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT TABERNACLE
As Reported by the Press Committee, Rev. W. J. Lowrie, Chairman
SYNOPSIS OF LOWRY'S SERMON
"Unpardonable Sins" Was the Theme of Last Night's Sermon—Converts Eighty-three Converts previously reported... 677

Converts last night..... 83
Total 767
Attendance last night.....2300
Yesterday was a great day in the history of the tabernacle. The greatest yet! Each succeeding day is becoming the greatest yet. The campaign has at last struck twelve. The barriers have been broken down and the opposition swept under.
Splendid crowds marked each of the services. And better than the numbers present was the intense interest. The weather was in conjunction with the campaign forces. The day was cool, and just enough so to cause the people to seek shelter within doors.
The morning service was attended by twelve or fourteen hundred people. The afternoon service for women brought out a full house. The men's meeting in Gardner's hall was attended by about four hundred fifty. The evening service was crowded. The estimated attendance is 2300. Every bench was filled and fifty or more people stood in the aisles or about the sides. Many went away when they found there was not room.
One of the truly great meetings of the series was the afternoon meeting for men. Brainerd has seldom listened to such a stern indictment of sin and to such a tender appeal for correct living. It was the conclusion of those who heard Mr. John Sornberger yesterday that he stands peerless among his class.
Mothers' Day was beautifully observed by the different churches that joined in the tabernacle to do honor to this new nation-wide day. White and red flowers were very where in evidence. Thoughtful people went out through the town with automobiles and brought all the aged and "shut-ins" of whom they had knowledge. These had seats in front that were cushioned with blankets. It was a beautiful occasion for these aged ones. The evangelist's sermon was on the resurrection and the hope we have in Christ. The sermon and the occasion conjoined beautifully.
The ushers were young ladies. They were provided with flowers which they gave to the mothers as they entered the building.
At the evening service announcement was made that next Sabbath an offering would be made the evangelist. This is all that he will receive for his five weeks' strenuous labors. The collections heretofore taken have gone to pay local expenses. All that Rev. Lowrie will receive for his work must come from the voluntary subscriptions of the people interested next Sabbath.
This evening the theme will be "Pleasures of Sin for a Season, or the Gospel Side of the Amusement Question." Tuesday evening the subject will be "The Judgment Day."
Tuesday will be a day of fasting and prayer. The morning meeting in the tabernacle will be from seven to eight o'clock. Frank Heber will be the leader. Continuous prayer services will be held at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. The complete program will be found elsewhere.
The theme last night was the "Unpardonable Sin." The text was from Acts 7:51: "Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears ye do always resist the Holy Ghost." Prayer was offered by Rev. John Sornberger, the lumber-jack evangelist.
The evangelist said: Christian people quench the Holy Spirit, the unsaved resist the Holy Spirit. The Christian man quenches the Holy Spirit when he is prompted to pray and fails to do it, or when he is prompted to speak to some unconver-

GREATER CIVIC ORGANIZATION

George B. Irving Preaches the Gospel of Conservation of Community Welfare

THE POWER OF ORGANIZATION

Noon Day Luncheon Attracts Over a Hundred Citizens to Commercial Club Rooms

The Irving noon day luncheon at the Commercial club rooms attracted over a hundred citizens of Brainerd and they enjoyed the fine luncheon prepared by Wm. Nelson and his assistants, a dozen pretty girls from the domestic science classes of the high school.

Coffee, sandwiches, beans, pickles, doughnuts, etc., were served. Then the crowd of one hundred or more settled back in their chairs to listen to the address of George B. Irving, the exponent of a greater commercial organization in Brainerd.

Mr. Irving had Prof. Wm. Graham and Prof. Bartsch as assistants and they played the air while the large assemblage sang the boosting song written by A. O. Johnson, proprietor of the Ransford hotel.

D. A. Haggard, chairman of the membership campaign, introduced Mr. Irving to the audience. He begged for cooperation to make the campaign a success. He said Mr. Irving would call for volunteers. Each one should forget his business for a period and give his aid in this week's membership campaign.

Mr. Irving said he was proud to see so many men turn out. It was a good thing to have the men of Brainerd rub their elbows and get together. It was a test of the local pulse and the attendance showed Brainerd was alive, that the body politic was in a healthy, vigorous condition.

There was a continuous battle going on in the nation at large, overshadowing the Mexican war, and this was the battle of the cities for supremacy.

"Woe to the city or community which does not recognize this titanic fight," said Mr. Irving emphatically. The fight between New York and Chicago meant the elimination of other towns too, for each was after the other's social or business scalp.

The curse of towns today was lethargy. It spelled defeat and demoralization. Many business men go to sleep in their offices.

"Give as much time to your town as you give to your business," pleaded Mr. Irving. "Boost your town and your business will get its share of the general uplift."

"Suppose the Northern Pacific shops were removed to Staples and the Soo developed Crosby into a big center! Such a thing is possible. Don't imagine that your town will always be the queen city of this section without some work on your part. That is your heritage geographically, but the first contingency might easily happen."

The conservation of community welfare should be a city's aim. The patriot of today is the one who believes in such conservation and does his share in the general upbuilding.

Business men and others are coming together in a great chamber of commerce, a large democratic organization. The greatest power in a community is such an organization. The greatest honor which can come to a man is to be the president of such a body.

The voice in your town should come from a maximum commercial club and when the club decides some-

NATION PAYS ITS TRIBUTE TO DEAD

Special to Dispatch:

New York, May 11—The dead from Vera Cruz were landed on American soil today and the city, state and nation paid their tribute. Early in the day 17 flag draped coffins were removed from the cruiser, Montana, and placed on caissons in Battery Park.

Two hours later an imposing procession accompanied the bodies to the city hall where the final services were held. The secretary of the navy, senators, congressmen, state and city officials were in line and the crowds on the streets were the greatest since the Dewey parade of fifteen years ago. The services at the city hall included an address by President Wilson.

thing should be done. It will be done.

Mr. Irving complimented Brainerd on its fine Iron Exchange building and said R. R. Wise, who built it, should be given a banquet for what he had done.

Mr. Irving believed in the budget idea to run a church or a city. Certain revenues were to be provided for meeting certain expenses. Crookston raised $10,000 a year for its budget.

For instance, the charities budget did away with the continual individual subscriptions and begging. He wished to standardize celebrations and charities. It was the only way to run things.

"These rooms," said Mr. Irving, "are good if you have an industrial secretary. Your social features are good, but do not neglect the industrial features."

He explained his plan of memberships. Prominent citizens were to take more than one. For instance, he had H. F. Michael down for 15 and R. R. Wise for 25 memberships.

He urged the volunteer system to get members in the coming campaign and the adoption of the biblical injunction to go out in pairs.

"And every time we get ten memberships, I want every whistle in town to blow," said Mr. Irving, "so that Crosby and Little Falls will hear it."

"You have got to increase your membership at some time or another. Why not do it now? You have a good city of 10,000. Crookston's commercial club had an income of $1,200 annually and a membership campaign boosted it to $10,000 a year. You can have money too to use intelligently. Sell your memberships to farmers, shop men, to all interested in your town. At $6 a membership you will need to raise 1,500 memberships. At $10 you will need 900 memberships."

"If you think it right, then dedicate your energies to this project. If not, quit right here. We need 50 men who will give part of their time to getting memberships. Start out Wednesday morning at 8:30 or 9 o'clock and go to work. If you don't get the men we shall have to quit."

A vote was taken on the annual dues and all present voted in favor of $10.

D. A. Haggard then took the names of all volunteers who said they would help in the membership campaign.

Prof. Cobb has invited Mr. Irving to make an address at the high school at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and a delegation of business men and ladies has been asked to accompany Mr. Irving to the school.

Today Mr. Irving will devote most of his time to a study of the industrial conditions in Brainerd.

On Wednesday memberships will

AGAINST REPEAL OF CANAL TOLLS

Senator Moses E. Clapp Writes Brainerd Booster Club in Regard to Telegram Sent Him

STATES HIS REASONS FOR STAND

Refers to Free Tolls at Soo Canal—Water Transportation to Regulate Railroad Rates

The Booster club, of Brainerd, adopting resolutions favoring the repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption clause, backed up President Wilson in his stand and sent copies of the telegram to Senators Knute Nelson and Moses E. Clapp.

Senator Nelson replied that he had taken the matter under consideration. Senator Clapp stated why he was against the repeal of the exemption clause. In a letter to John A. Hoffbauer, secretary of the Booster club, Mr. Clapp says:

"I regret that I cannot agree with you in regard to the repeal of the Panama canal tolls. There was only one justification on earth for building that canal and that was the same justification that we had for deepening the Mississippi river, building the Soo canal and improving our harbors, viz: that by doing so our water transportation could be more easily compete with and be a factor in regulating railroad rates. If it is unfair to give our coastwise trade shipping through the Panama canal free of tolls, what can be said of giving free tolls at the Soo. In fact, those who favor the repeal of free tolls do not hesitate to say that the time will come when free tolls will have to be repealed in our canals."

"Now it may seem that in view of the overwhelming cost of the Panama canal some slight toll should be charged, but I do not want to take a position in this matter that will foreclose my resisting the repeal of free tolls upon our improvements upon the great lakes, the rivers and harbors. I regret, therefore that I cannot agree with you and I doubt whether the people of Brainerd will understand that the same interests which demand the repeal of free tolls at Panama are just as anxious to abolish, if they could, free tolls at the Soo."

Dick Vawter, a representative of the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua System, has just visited Brainerd and delivered the season tickets to the local committee. He also left some samples of outdoor advertising and opened a campaign of publicity for the big event.

The Redpath-Vawter people have always been great advertisers, and there will be no letdown this year. Bulls eyes, banners, streamers, flags, pennants, window hangers and bill board paper will be used freely and by the time Chautauqua opens the town will be dressed in gala colors.

Election of Officers—Secretary's Report Shows Membership to be 531

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held last Thursday night. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Edward Crust.
Vice President—W. A. M. Johnstone.

Secretary—G. J. Kroes.

Treasurer—G. S. Swanson.

The auditing committee made their report and stated that the books showed the association to be in a good sound financial condition, and paying its current expenses as they are incurred. In spite of difficulties of various sorts the membership has been kept up, owing to the untiring efforts of Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Leak, and the association now has a membership of 531.

The report of the general secretary showed that during the past month there had been 9,000 visits to the building, an average of 300 a day; $22 baths were taken, an average of 27 a day, and an attendance of 84 at the morning devotions. The association has a committee which visits the sick members, taking flowers to cheer up those who are shut in, and to let them know that the association keeps track of them and is trying to serve them in every way it can.

The work among the boys is progressing nicely. They have organized a ball team which is playing the teams in the Sunday School league. Saturday, the Juniors went to Barrows to play the team at that place, and beat them 13-11. The game was featured by heaving hitting on the part of both teams, but the Brainerd boys bunched their hits to better advantage.

Obituary

Edwin H. Green, an old resident of Brainerd, passed away at a local hospital on Friday morning, May 8. He was born in Liverpool, England, May 30, 1846. He came to Buffalo, N. Y., with his parents while a child and later removed to Royal Oak, Mich.

In 1864 he entered the service of the Chicago & Alton railway. In the late seventies he entered the service of the Northern Pacific railway. He retired from this road about twenty years ago.

In 1882 he was married to Mrs. Alice Allen Brown of Birmingham, Mich. He leaves a widow and six children, also three sisters and two brothers, of Flint, Mich.

The funeral was held this Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the Peoples Congregational church, Rev. Jenkins officiating.

A Stubborn Cough is Wearing and Risky

Letting a stubborn cough "hang on" in the spring is risky. Foley's Honey & Tar Compound heals raw inflamed surfaces in the throat and bronchial tubes—makes sore, weak spots sound and whole—stops stubborn, tearing coughs. Refuse substitutes. H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Adv. mwf

At the Columbia

Sunday night's bill at the Columbia was of that satisfying, full value for the money kind, that every one of the large audiences present was well pleased.

The Mutual Girl visited the Arkansas battle ship and investigated things to her heart's content. Every phase of the big battleship was shown, from engines to the masthead. It wound up with a sparring match on the deck, two rival would be sailor Sharkeys hammering each other in a fast go. A fascinating sight was to see how easily the big guns were elevated and depressed and sighted for shots. Next week the Mutual Girl will appear in the latest spring styles, hats, gowns, shoes.

The comedy presented was of the most uproarious kind. The heroine was spiked down to a railroad track and the combined efforts of a field mouse, brown bear and a pony nibbled away her bonds and saved her just as the road engine driven by the villain thundered by and—missed her. This combination of animal assistance has all other movie relief expeditions backed off the boards.

The oil fields were used as the scene of a drama in oil finding and stock manipulation and the hero came out at the top of the heap and vanquished the villainous delectate which was striving to freeze out the small stockholders.

The Columbia orchestra, ever popular, was heard in a splendid program of music and Edward Harris Bergh gave a violin solo, "The Serenade" by Schubert, all numbers being loudly applauded. Music is one of the features at the Columbia, which claims to present the best music of any moving picture theatre in the northwest.

consequences. Infidelity is God giving man over to a reprobate mind that he may believe a lie. The yellow streak of infidelity is apparent in Brainerd today. The lies that are current on the streets; the devil stirred up to condemn through the teeth of his servants a religious movement that is intended for the cleanliness and purity of this town—these are the tokens of the resisted Spirit and the unpardonable sin.

Sudden death is another consequence of the resisted Spirit. Man cannot afford to trifle with God. He is too frail a mechanism, a little clog in his machinery and it is all day over with the resister.

Eternal damnation is the final scene in the solemn drama. The harvest past the summer ended and man not saved is alone the result of resistance. There is a better way—that is through faith in the Son of God who wills not the death of any man. He calls to all "take my yoke upon you and learn of Me."

EDWARD R. SYVERSON.

Candidate for Representative from Crow Wing County.

I respectfully solicit the support of voters of Crow Wing county at the primary election to be held June 16, 1914, and if nominated and elected, I pledge my best efforts to the honest and efficient service of the people of my county and state.

I advocate and if elected will support: Legislation for greater state aid for roads and bridges.

Legislative provision for development of state lands by the state.

Any legislation that will help compel proper business-like economy and increase the efficiency of administration of the state's business affairs.

I believe firmly in the rule of the people and if elected shall support every measure which may tend to increase the power of the people in state government and all measures which may tend to the betterment of conditions in rural communities.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for sheriff of Crow Wing county and respectfully solicit the support of all voters at the primary election to be held June 16, 1914, and if nominated and elected I pledge my best efforts in serving the people of the county.

I have been a resident and taxpayer of this county for 24 years, previous to which I served five years in the U. S. regular army, as sergeant of Co. B, 15th Infantry, where I received a military training that will, I believe, be a valuable aid in performing the duties of the office, which, I feel confident I can perform efficiently and satisfactorily, if elected.

Respectfully,
ERICK KRONBERG.

The Out of Doors Man

The fellow with the big tough muscles, who can chop trees all day and lift the butt end of a hard log, is a hearty liver in everything he tackles. He likes his tobacco rich, mellow and full of natural flavor, good for both smoking and chewing. He uses because it's got the right stuff in it. Satisfaction—for a sturdy man—can come from real tobacco only. Insipid mixtures don't appeal to a man with real tobacco hunger.

PEERLESS Long Cut Tobacco

PEERLESS is pure Southern Kentucky leaf, with the "body" for a real smoke or chew, yet rich and pleasing. It takes three to five years to age the tobacco in PEERLESS; the process can't be hurried. That's the reason PEERLESS is so ripe and mellow.

PEERLESS will "make good" the first time you smoke or chew it. But if you want to prove that PEERLESS satisfaction isn't a "flash in the pan" give PEERLESS a week's trial. Then you'll know that PEERLESS always satisfies, and you'll always keep on using it. Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

Other sizes, 10c, 20c and 40c Packages, and 45c Tin Packs.
